The Need For PC Surveillance

PC surveillance and monitoring is one of the fastest growing areas in the surveillance industry while the low starting price of available products has made this type of solution very affordable. With computers in every office and almost every home and with internet communication escalating, surveillance of computer activity is of paramount importance. Enter our tried and tested PC monitoring devices.

Types of PC Monitoring Tools

There are really three types of product available or a combination of these three. Keyloggers or Keystroke Loggers have been around for a number of years now. This type of device records every key that is struck on the computer keyboard. Our Voice Logger Computer Software is a perfect example of this type of product. Classic Keyloggers or Keyboard Loggers are a piece of hardware that sits between the PS/2 or USB connection of the computer keyboard and the connector on the computer base unit. These keystroke loggers match the style of the keyboard plug, so effectively camouflaging their insertion. Recorded information is stored on the flash memory of the keystroke logger. Through a menu/password system, the stored information can be retrieved on the computer on which it is installed or on another computer after the keylogger has been removed and re-inserted in the donor PC. There is a new type of keystroke logger that doesn't require a piece of hardware to be left inserted into the computer. This software based keylogger sections off a portion of the hard drive to record keystrokes and also screenshots. None of the keyloggers interfere with anti-spyware or anti-virus software, so are perfectly safe.

Professional Computer Spying

Another type of computer spying that has been available for a number of years in various forms is total computer monitoring software. This is a complete suite of software tools on a disc. When uploaded onto the PC that is to be monitored a rule does have to be created to work around the anti-virus software, but once installed the software will log keystrokes, take screenshots, capture e-mail and Instant Messenger chat. The final weapon in the armoury of computer monitoring is the remote monitoring software. Once installed on the PC, activity of that PC can be monitored remotely from anywhere in the world as long as both PC's are Internet connected. When it comes down to PC Monitoring, Spy Equipment UK have every eventuality covered and at prices that everybody can now afford. Help Protect Intellectual Property Through PC Monitoring

Instant Messengers have become an essential part of businesses today. Instant communication can bring increased productivity and better communication, but also dangers. These perils can be, however, diminished with pieces of computer monitoring software like the chat stick. How much time do your employees waste chatting with friends outside of work or fellow employees about non-work related issues? Are your employees sharing files through Instant Messengers that contain viruses? Are they leaking or stealing valuable company information? A quick scan and review with the Chat Stick can tell you in minutes. It's a computer monitoring tool for both the workplace and the domestic home.

The Data Devil can recover data from almost any type of storage. The DataDevil is every employer's, concerned parents' and suspicious spouse' dream spy tool. Spy Equipment UK is an official UK supplier for this product.

Product Code: D4TA

£149.00 (exc. VAT) £178.80 (inc. VAT)

The DataDevil is every employer's, concerned parents' and suspicious spouse' dream spy tool. Simply plug the device into your hard drive and perform a recovery of deleted data from any number of devices including camera's, USB sticks, SD cards, and even the hard drive itself.

Recovers Data Even After Recycle Bin is Emptied

For use only with Windows operating systems up to and including Windows 10, the DataDevil will recover files which have been deleted from your recycle bin so even if someone deletes data permanently and empties the contents of the recycle bin on the PC, the data should still be recoverable!

Get Answers or Absolute Proof!

The DataDevil can recover deleted files from most devices which have a mass storage option. Most children, employees, and cheating partners would generally rely on the function of deleting data to cover their tracks and avoid suspicion because as a rule, the expectation is that the deleted information would be impossible or very difficult to recover. The DataDevil may unearth the truths that you suspected and provide you with absolute PROOF or answers to some of the burning questions you have.

How to Recover Deleted Files on Your PC

The DataDevil is not just for spying. Almost anyone that uses a computer has accidentally deleted something they didn't want to. It's common knowledge that when you delete something, even if you empty your Recycle Bin, the data is not gone. Deleted data can be recovered at any time as long as new data does not overwrite the old data. Imagine being able to recover the family photo album you accidentally deleted or being the hero at work by recovering that presentation deleted by the intern. Until now, deleted
