This smart-looking black and chrome pen has been engineered to incorporate a high definition camera, microphone and micro SD card recording system hidden within, yet still retain normal writing capability of an everyday biro pen

High Definition Colour Video Footage

The Spy Pen Video Recorder captures footage in full 1080p high definition together with audio. With video of this quality there should be no issues in identifying people from the imagery captured and if required for evidential purposes you will be happy to hear that time and date watermark is recorded within the frame of the video footage. Video records in M-JPEG format which is excellent for producing high quality moving imagery and also a common format for computer video playback. All recordings are stored on the inserted micro SD card. An 8GB micro SD card is supplied as standard with each pen.

Totally Discreet - Cunningly Disguised Camera

The majority of spy camera pens have a small hole just above the pen clip that is difficult to see unless examined closely. The Spy Pen Video Recorder has been cleverly thought out and the camera is part of a central dark strip on the pen clip which makes it even more discreet than others. The SD Card recording system is completely hidden away and can only be accessed by unscrewing the pen at the centre. Once split apart the SD card slot is exposed, so it is very simple to swap the SD card at short notice. And the pen can easily be used for writing by simply twisting the chrome nib which will propel the point into view.

Still Imagery Capture Available - Internal Battery

In addition to video recording the pen can also take high grade still images. All functions are c
